Glenbard South musicians chosen for prestigious symposium

Nine members of the Glenbard South High School orchestra have been invited to the Allerton String Chamber Music Symposium, sponsored by the University of Illinois.

The symposium will be held Friday and Saturday, April 21 and 22.

Chamber ensembles from across the state compete to be accepted to Allerton. Glenbard South is the only school to have two groups invited.

The string quintet and a string quartet were selected based on audition tapes prepared to participate in this prestigious symposium.

The string quartet includes violinists Guisselle DelSalto and Elizabeth Fontana, violist Erica Reijula and cellist Ross Maki.

The string quintet members include violinists Rachel Wittrig and Jessica Tuan, violist Emma Strohmusch, cellist Zach May, and bassist Marie King.
