

Glenbard Township High School District 87

Administration Center ▲ 596 Crescent Boulevard ▲ Glen Ellyn, Illinois 60137-4297 ▲ Phone: (630) 469-9100 ▲ Fax: (630) 469-9107

Program offers humorous insight into parenting

Parents who attend the next CARES program at Glenbard West High School will gain some practical approaches to parenting with a purpose, and they will have plenty of laughs along the way.

“Why? Because I said so” will be presented at 7 p.m. Tuesday, March 20, in the library at Glenbard West, 670 Crescent Blvd. in Glen Ellyn.

Humor columnist Deb DiSandro is the guest speaker. DiSandro offers wit and wisdom for today’s frequently overwhelmed parents.

The program is open to all parents, including those who do not live within Glenbard District 87 boundaries.

At 6:30 p.m. March 20, parents are invited to a pre-meeting discussion group and orientation that offers an opportunity to share concerns, problems and solutions with one another.

The program is underwritten by Trust Company of Illinois.

For further information, please contact Gilda Ross at (630) 469-8600 Ext. 2778.

Posted: March 5, 2007