Glenbard West calendar earns award of merit

Congratulations to Glenbard West High School staff members Penny Chanez, Nancy Payne and Sandy Schumann on winning an award of merit in the Illinois chapter of the National School Public Relations Association Communications Awards Contest.

They were honored in the calendar category of the contest and were presented with their award during a Sept. 15 luncheon.

INSPRA's competition is the only award program in the state that honors high quality school communications that promote a school district's mission and message.

The award of merit is presented to publications that are exemplary in editorial content and graphic design.

A panel of expert communications professionals judged the contest entries, considering writing style and clarity, how design supports the message, and whether the publications are appropriate for their intended audience.
