Glenbard invites public to join committees, share input

Community members have a great opportunity to share their ideas and talents with officials in Glenbard Township High School District 87 and shape the future of the school district.

Glenbard officials are encouraging the public to volunteer in two new capacities. The Board of Education is forming a Scholarship Committee to investigate a variety of options that can make it possible for more students to have an opportunity to participate in Glenbard's many programs. The committee will be comprised primarily of community members. The Board of Education also is inviting the public to serve on its established committees.

The public has provided numerous ideas to help Glenbard as it moves forward. As a result of public feedback, the board has implemented fees for all students. The Scholarship Committee will investigate the feasibility of lowering these fees and pursuing additional options.

The Scholarship Committee will create a structure for a scholarship fund and a process for distributing said funds.

Those interested in serving on the Scholarship Committee are asked to submit an application to the Glenbard district office by Thursday, May 19. Applications are available by contacting board secretary Jo Ahrens via email at jo_ahrens@glenbard.org or by calling 942-7670.

In addition, two community members will be appointed to serve on each of the board's established committees. The committees include: Curriculum, Policy, Finance/Facility and Legislative and Communications. Applications to serve on one of these committees also are available by contacting Jo Ahrens via email at jo_ahrens@glenbard.org or by calling 942-7670. The deadline for applications to serve on one of the board's established committees is Tuesday, May 31.
