Glenbard East student, staff achievements recognized

1. Glenbard East High School student Michael Foley has received a prestigious writing award. He is a recipient of the 2005 National Council of Teachers of English Achievement Awards in Writing, making him one of the best student writers in the country.

Schools nominated 2,359 juniors for the award, and judges chose 628 students as outstanding writers. Their selection was based on two entries: an impromptu theme written under teacher supervision in no more than two hours and a writing sample the student considers his best work.

2. In November, Glenbard East High School senior Vanessa Ramirez will be featured on SchoolScape, on Lombard Cable Access Channel 6. Vanessa will represent Glenbard East and talk about her three years of experience in TURBO, a program that accelerates and supports Hispanic and African-American students into honors and Advanced Placement classes.

Each month, a Glenbard East student will be featured on SchoolScape, which is cablecast in Lombard on Channel 6 at 10:30 p.m. Wednesdays, 7 p.m. Fridays, 11 a.m. and 8 p.m. Saturdays and 2 p.m. Sundays. The program also is presented on AT&T cable public access Channel 19 at 3 p.m. each Tuesday.

3. The Illinois High School Soccer Coaches Association selected Glenbard East High School coach Josh Adler as Sectional Soccer Coach of the Year. This is a great honor coming from Adler's fellow coaches.
