Mock Trial team takes first at invitational

The Glenbard South High School Mock Trial Team took first place in the Noble Street Chart School Mock Trial Invitational on Jan. 29.

Special recognition as Outstanding Attorneys was given to Claire van Eijk and Brittany Zawislak. Outstanding Witnesses named were Will Hatcher and Amy Cumbow.

Mock Trial Team members include Julie Merritt, Amarto Bhattacharyya, Jay McCarron, Spencer Diedrick, Alexander Diedrick, Tommy Dobrowolski, Katie Kosartes, and Margaret Truesdale.

Eight teams participated in the competition in which all teams receive a case from the Illinois State Bar Association and prepare for trial. This year's case is a civil case concerning the rights of individuals to travel and the security restrictions created by "No Fly" lists.

The Glenbard South Mock Trial Team is preparing for the DuPage County Regional meet on Feb. 18, the Lake County meet on Feb. 19 and the state competition in Springfield on March 4 & 5.

The team adviser is Elizabeth "Betsy" Neurauter and the lead attorney coach is James McCarron. Also assisting the team are attorneys John Casey, Sean McCumber (a former Glenbard South Mock Trial Team member) and Suzanne Fitch.
