Glenbard educators achieve top teaching honor

Glenbard Township High School District 87 is proud to announce eight teachers have earned teaching's top honor by achieving National Board Certification status.

Glenbard East High School teachers include Mark Clutter, Sean Neary, and Joan Witkus. Glenbard South High School teachers include Erin Doyle, Haresh Harpalani, Bill Grosser, Candace Vickers and Mike Heinz.

National Board Certification is achieved through a rigorous performance-based assessment that takes between one and three years to complete and measures what teachers and school counselors should know and be able to do.

Glenbard East teacher English teacher Larry Mroczek and music teacher Joanne May mentored these teachers through the certification process.

National studies have found evidence that National Board Certification is an effective indicator of teacher quality, and students of National Board Certified-teachers did a measurably better job on year-end tests than students whose teachers did not have national certification.

Glenbard teachers who have National Board Certification are an example of Glenbard's high standards and commitment to excellence in education.
