Technology Center commends Glenbard students

Several Glenbard students who are enrolled at the Technology Center of DuPage were honored as Outstanding Seniors in their program areas during a May 25 awards night convocation.

The event also was a time to present Outstanding Effort awards to students who showed the most improvement and honor those who have placed first, second or third in competitions. Scholarship recipients also were recognized at the ceremony.

Honorees from Glenbard East High School include: Jerry Balagtas, Janelle Boehm, Claes Eiff, Jessica Hotz, Amy Jans, Alvaro Lima, Rebecca Matuszak, Mallory McLaughlin, Brett Novak, Alicia Ortman, Matthew Rago and Savuth Youth.

Glenbard North High School students honored include: Jason Austermuehle, Tomas Burm, Jeremy DeRango, Ryan Dillon, Alex Garber, Nicholas Giambrone, Jennifer Henske, Shane Hill, Bethany Papciak, Robert Peters, Michael Siciliano, Paul Michael Solver and Gabriela Vasquez.

Glenbard South High School honorees include Andrea Dietz, Jason O'Malley and Chiara Reddington.

Glenbard West High School students who were recognized at the awards night include Jessica Andersen, Angelo Dunlao, Matthew Dube, Kevin Yang, Majda Mujkanovic, Laura Barajas and Nathan Dahlberg.

The Technology Center of DuPage offers practical, hands-on experience through programs such as construction trades, computer information systems, graphic communications, culinary, and fire science.
